1. What is the purpose of the study?
The purpose of the study is to investigate the effect of the use of a mobile learning application on the learning outcomes of students in a distance education program.

2. What is the research design?
The research design is a quasi-experimental design with a pre-test and post-test.

3. What are the variables?
The independent variable is the use of the mobile learning application. The dependent variable is the learning outcomes of the students.

4. What is the sample?
The sample consists of 40 students enrolled in a distance education program.

5. What are the data collection methods?
The data collection methods are a pre-test and a post-test.

6. What are the results?
The results show that the use of the mobile learning application had a positive effect on the learning outcomes of the students.

7. What are the conclusions?
The conclusion is that the use of a mobile learning application can improve the learning outcomes of students in a distance education program.

8. What are the limitations?
The limitations of the study are the small sample size and the lack of a control group.

9. What are the implications?
The implications of the study are that the use of a mobile learning application can be a useful tool for distance education programs.

10. What are the future research directions?
Future research directions include conducting a larger study with a control group and investigating the long-term effects of the mobile learning application.
