

Arg 4

It is synthesized locally from the amino acid histidine and degraded rapidly by oxidation and methylation. In most cells, histamine is held by an acidic protein and heparin with intracellular granules. It increase in Ca^{2+} histamine inhibition.