

Sec-1

Q1) What do you understand by on-site storage of solid waste.

⇒ Onsite means these functions are concerned with solid waste at the place where the waste is generated. For residential waste this means at home in the household.

It involves individual family members, household and communities, all of whom need to know how to handle waste properly at this level.