

Q2)

Many technical factors affect the decision making on the site selection including wind speed, land topography and geology, grid structures & distance and turbine size. These technical factors must be understood in order to give pair-wise scores to sub-factors.