

Q.1.3 What is the principle of explosive welding?

Ans The basic principle of the explosive welding is that the flyer plate is accelerated toward the base plate at an angle by the explosion and with an extremely high velocity. In this process the two pieces of metal can be welded together by explosion. This technique is called explosion welding.