Competitive Concerns

Horizontal, Vertical and conglomerate merges each raise distinctive competitive concerns

Horizontal merges

Horizontal merges raise three basic competitive problems the first is the elimination of competition between the merging firm which depending on their size could.

Why do executive Initiates merger and acquisition of other firms? Explain.

Merger and acquisition:

Methods by which Corporation legally unify ownership of assets formerly subject to separate controls

A merger or acquisition is a combination of two companies where one corporation is completely absorbed by another corporation. A merger extinguishes the merged corporation and the surviving assumes all the rights, privileges and liabilities of the merged corporation. A merger is not the same as a consolidation. In which two corporations lose their separate identities and unite to form a completely new corporation.
