

Page no. - 2

2. What are the objectives and functions of UNCTAD? What are the factors determine size of gain of international trade?

UNCTAD

UNCTAD is the part of the United Nations Secretariat dealing with trade, investment and development issues. The organization's goal are to maximize the trade investment and development opportunities of and assist them in their efforts to integrate into the world economy on an equitable basis.

Factors determine the size of gain of international trade

