

D-6
A

Transaction Processing System:

Transaction processing systems (TPS) are cross-functional information systems that process data resulting from the occurrence of business transactions. Transaction processing is supported by programs that are called transaction processing systems.

* Transaction processing system provide three functional areas:

- (1) System Runtime Functions.
- (2) System Administration Functions.
- (3) Application development functions.
- (4) Scheduling and Load balancing.
- (5) Managing Communications.