

courses, tasks, and projects.

What is information, explain it with example.

Information is a set of data which is processed in a meaningful way according to the given requirement. Information is processed, structured, or presented in a given context to make it meaningful and useful.

Information assigns meaning and improves the reliability of the data. It helps to ensure understandability and reduce uncertainty. So, when the data is transformed into information, it never has any useless details.

