

1 Explain Groupware in detail.

Groupware refers to programs that help work together collectively while located remotely from each other. Sometimes called collaborative software groupware is an integral component of a field of study known as a computer-supported cooperative work or CSCW. Groupware is often broken down into categories describing whether or not work group members collaborate in real time (Synchronous groupware and asynchronous groupware).