

Ans 1 PLUS Decision making model :- The PLUS model is based on a seven step process 'PLUS' is an acronym Policies, Legal, universal, and self) for the ethics filters that facilitate the analysis of ethics considerations and implications of the decision at hand.

Step 1 :- Define the problem.

The most significant step in any decision making process is to determine why decision is called for and identify the desired outcome.

Step 2 :- seek out relevant assistance guidance and support :-

once the problem is define it is critical to search out resources that may be of assistance in the making decision.

Step 3 Identify available alternative solutions to the problem

The key to this step is to not limit yourself to obvious alternatives or merely what has worked in the past.

Step 4 :- evaluate the identified alternatives as you evaluate each alternative identify the likely positive and negative consequences of each.

Step 5 :- make the decision :-

when acting alone this is the natural next step after selecting the best alternative.

Step 6 :- Implement the decision :- while this might seem obvious it is necessary to make the point that deciding of the best alternative is not a same as doing something.
