

Knowledge^b - Knowledge is the familiarity, awareness or understanding of someone or something such as fact, skills, or objects. Knowledge can be acquired in many different ways and from many different sources including but not limited to experience, education, reason, memory and practice.

Characteristic of Knowledge

1. Knowledge is contextual and it can be re-used
2. Benefit of knowledge obtain only if it is applies
3. The values of knowledge may change overtime
4. Knowledge has to be renewed or maintained.
5. It can be difficult to transfer, capture and distribute knowledge.
6. It is developed through learning process.
7. Depends on memory past experience knowledge transfer mechanism