

Ans. Two Types of knowledge are usually defined, namely explicit and tacit knowledge. The former refers to codified knowledge.

1) Explicit Knowledge :-

This is the type of knowledge most easily handled by KMS, which are very effective at facilitating the storage, retrieval, and modification of documents and texts.

2) Tacit Knowledge :-

Tacit knowledge is often often context dependent and personal in nature. It is hard to communicate and deeply rooted in action, commitment and involvement.
