

Data processing of the data and communicating the information to the user of the system.

- 3) Information system also allow firms to create entirely new business models that describe how digital firms produce, deliver and sell products and services.
- 4) Three key activities define an information system.

Information system

- a) Input are the raw data and information that comes into an information system from its external environment.
- b) processing is what the information system does with inputs to turn them into information. this can involve classifying.
- c) Output are how the processed information.

Ques/Ans

Application security — It is the process of developing adding and testing security features within applications and present security vulnerabilities against threats

- 1) Computer hardware
- 2) Computer software
- 3) Telecommunication
- 4) Data bases and data warehouses
- 5) Human resources and procedures