

Port: A place on the coast at which ships can shelter or dock to load and unload cargo or passengers. A town or city containing such a place. The left hand side of a vessel, including aircraft, when one is facing the front.

Herbs: A plant whose leaves, seeds etc are used in medicine or in cooking. Herbs are small plants that have a fleshy or juicy stem when are young the stems of some herbs develop hard, woody tissue when they grow old. most herbs are perennials.