

Function of info system with example.

1. information systems are combination of hardware, software & telecommunication networks that people build and use to create and distribute useful data typically in organization things

2. Three key => activities define an info system.

a. inputs are the raw data & info that comes into an info system from its external environment

(b) processing is what the information system does with input to turn them into information. This can involve classifying, arranging, calculating & formatting