

(2.)

Information system :-)

Information system are classified by organization levels, mode of data processing.

Types of information system

1. Transaction processing system :-)

TPSs

are info systems that process data resulting from the occurrence of business transaction.

2. Management Information System :->

Many diff. type of reports are produced in MIS. Some of the reports are summary report on-demand report.

3. Decision Support Systems :->

DSS comprise tools and techniques to help in gathering relevant information and analyze.

4. Expert Systems :->

Expert system include expertise in order to aid managers in diagnosing problems or in problem solving.

between

IS

IA

1. Strategy is less focused

Strategy is less focused.

2. In information system, data is raw.

While in information assurance, data is processed.

3. Information sys. is business investment.

information assurance are privacy and business.

4. Software and hardware sys. with data intensive support appl. is called as (IS).

The study of how to protect your Information assets from destruction.