

Security Risk Analysis-

It is fundamental to the security of any organization. The analysis of risk should be occurred on a regular basis and be updated to ~~had~~ identify new potential threats.

It helps to identify gaps in information security. It can also enhance the communication & decision making processes. It improves security policies.

function of information system -

An information system is a designed system that collects, stores, processes & distributes information about the state of a domain.

—X—X—X—