

Section - 1Q2Ans A. Human - Human Relationship:

1. The proposal above outlines very clearly that Relationship is between the self ('I') and the other self ('I'). It is a need of the self ('I') to be in relationship with the other.
2. Being in relationship, we have feelings for the self ('I') to be in relationship with the other. These feelings cannot be replaced by any material or physical things.
3. These feelings are definite and these feelings are the 'values' in a relationship. Feeling by any material or physical things and feeling of oneself ('I') with the other ('I') is definite, can be identified, understood and fulfilled.
4. Feelings (values) in Relationship:
  - (1) Trust
  - (2) Respect
  - (3) Affection
  - (4) Care
  - (5) Guidance
  - (6) Reverence
  - (7) Glory
  - (8) Gratitude
  - (9) Love

Feeling of love :

The feeling of being related to all is love (or prema). This feeling or value is also called the complete value, since this is the feeling or relation (relatedness) to all human beings.

It starts with identifying that one is related to the other human being (the feeling of affection) and it slowly expands to the feeling of being related to all human beings.

It is the feeling of love, which lays down the basis of an undivided society.

Competence and intention.

Intention is what one aspires for (our natural acceptance) and competence is the ability to fulfill the aspiration.

In intention every human being wants to do what is right, only the competence may be lacking which needs to be developed through proper understanding and practice.

But what we are doing today is that when we are judging ourselves we are judging on the basis of our intention, whereas, when we are judging the others we are judging him on the basis of his competence.
