

Section-3

- Q-2 a) Ethical human conduct can be defined as the combined representation of values, policy, and character which is acquired through right understanding and self-exploration.
- b) It is universal in nature and is in combination with universal human values. It is also called definite human conduct.
- c) Respect humanity, not be in conflict with societal norms, not steal, kill and should be honest.
- d) When they have established right understanding and are in harmony with the rest of the order of the universe such as essential equality of all men and women, human or natural rights, obedience to the law of land, concern, safety etc.
- e) Work towards enrichment of the best of the nature.
- f) But unless we have the right understanding, we are not able to identify the definitiveness of ethical human conduct. It can be understood in terms of the following :- values (Mulya), Policy (Niti), character (chakitra) and love.