

Q3 Define harmony in nature. Why is it important? Explain with example.

Ans-3 Harmony is the self is something that leads to harmony at all levels of being. The understanding is essential for each of us to live a life of fulfillment and continuous happiness.

Harmony in nature is vital source because we all depend on the nature. If the nature vanished then human life not possible, we human life depends on nature for fulfillment their needs.