

Section - 2

Q-1 What is meaning of production management? Discuss its objectives?

A Production management

Production management is a process of planning, organisation, directing and controlling the activities of the production function.

The main objective of production management is to produce goods quality of good and service at a right time or right place.

∴ P. of production management stands for

1- Product

2- Plant

3- Process

4- Program

5- People.

5 When these five element integrated a Successful production management ~~pla~~ take place

10 Its objectives of production manage-ment

1- Right Quality

2- Right Quantity

3- Pre-determined time

4- Pre-Established Cost

1- Quality - Quality of the product or Services are good. because good right quality build the relation with ~~Consumer~~ needs

25 The factor that effect the quality of products and service are ~~are~~ market, money, materials, mounting product requirements

2 Right Quantity

In Right Quantity the manufacturing department should produce the product in right number and produce the product for demand.

if the ~~prod.~~ demand of product is exceeded the Capital will block in the form of inventory.

if the quantity of product shorten in demand it will affect the product needs for consumer

3 Right time also affect the production management because time is every important to effectiveness the product and services. it objective to achieve the organization goals.

4

Manufacturing cost are established before the product is actually manufactured. Hence all attempts should be made to produce of the product.

