Section-B

I

Define the term of Speculators?

Speculators →

(1) A Speculators utiliza Strategies and typically a shorter time frame in an attempt to outperform traded longer term investor..

(2) Speculators Take on risk especially with respect to anticipating future price movement in the hope of making gains that a large enough risk.

(3) Speculators that takes on excessive risk typically don't last long.

Speculator exert control over

Date

long term risk by employing various strategices such as position sizing stop loss, and montoring the statistics of their trading performance.

(4) Speculator are typically Sophisacted risk taking ~~individual~~ individuals with expertise the market.

(5) ~~Sep~~ Speculators attempt to predict price change and extract profit from the price move in an assets. They may utilize leverage to magnify return (and losses, although this is a personal choice of the individual.

(6) Speculators are Sophisticated investors or Trader who purchase assets for short period of time and employ strategies in order to profit from changes in its price.

(7) Speculator are important to market because they brining liquidity and assume market risk.
they can also have a negative impact on market.
when their trading

Page No.
Date

action result in a speculative bubbles that drive up on assets price to unsustainable level.

(8) Speculator believes that a particular assets is going increase in value. They may choose to purchase as much of the assets as possible.
This activity based on the perceived increased in demand.

~~PEA~~