

The Vienna Sales Convention covers sales contracts and supply contracts in an international context only to the extent that the contract in question involves moveable goods. It does not apply to consumer purchases, i.e. to the ~~sale~~ sales of goods for personal use.

→ The CISG governs contract for the international sales of goods b/w private businesses excluding sales to consumers and sale of services, as well as sale of certain specified types of goods. It applies to contracts and sales of services, as well as