

Q. Write various dimensions of technical English?

Ans → 1) Scanning → Scanning can be described as looking rather than reading process.

2) Skimming → Skimming is used to get the overall picture of material.

3) Churning → The process of extracting the useful information out of whole content by reading number of times is known as churning.

4) Assimilation → Assimilation is a common phonological process by which one sound becomes more like a neighbouring sound.