SECTION - 4

I:-

• STOCK DIVIDEND:-

A dividend payment to share holders that is made in shares rather than as cash

Example:- A company might issue a stock dividend of 5%, which will require it to issue 0.05 shares for every share owned by existing share holders. So ~~an~~ owner will receive 5 shares more.

• LEASE FINANCING:-

It is a type of lease in which a finance company is typically the legal owner of the asset for the duration of the lease, while the lessee not only has operating control over the asset as per the aspects.

• VENTURE CAPITAL:-

Money invested in businesses that are small or exist only as an initiative but have huge potential to grow. Investment is made when a venture capitalist buys shares of such a company & becomes a financial partner in the business.

• DIVIDEND:-

Distribution of profits by a corporation to its shareholders. When a corporation earns a profit or surplus, it is able to pay a proportion of the profit as a dividend to shareholders. If there is any amount which is not distributed is taken to be re-invested in the business.
