

Ques 7:- Explains the different factors which affect the resistance.

The type of material, its width, its length, and its temperature. All materials have some resistance, but certain materials resist the flow of electric current more or less than other material do.

- The type of material of which the resistor is made.
- The length of the resistor.
- The thickness of the resistor.
- The temperature of the conductor.